

My name is Dr. Lian Peter, I am a first generation Nigerian Canadian who was raised in Ottawa, Ontario. My long educational journey has given me the opportunity to live in various places. It began with my decision to attend St. George's University in Grenada, where I obtained my Master's degree in Public Health, followed by my Doctor of Medicine. After two unforgettable years on the island, my last two years of Medical School were completed in New York. Subsequently, I was accepted into the Family Medicine program at Drexel University in Philadelphia, graduating three years later in June of 2016. Upon returning to Ottawa I applied for licenses in both Ontario and Manitoba, which brought me here to Hamiota. Although at the time I had never heard of Hamiota, it is now a place that I will never forget. The kindness and warmth of this community is unsurpassed in my travels; and I am grateful for the mentorship that I have received. Being here has exposed me to various activities, and enlightened me about the world of agriculture. When I am not working, my pastimes involve politics, entertainment and socializing with friends, of which I have made many in Hamiota and Shoal Lake. Given that the majority of my five siblings reside in Ottawa, I will be returning there. However, I am open-minded, so who knows, I may be back...
